

COMPANY PROFILE DESIGN

Movelt movers are a recent startup company that seeks to enhance the moving experience from start to finish - from packing to transport and unpacking. They offer a plethora of services, including space estimation, moving, climate controlled storage/transport, and interior design consultations. Not only are these services unique to Movelt, they also come at a fraction of the cost of hiring these services individually.

Founded in 2009, Movelt originally started as a platform to allow drivers with trucks to rent out their services to those seeking help moving from place to place. They soon expanded to include cleaning and packing services, all sourced from the local community.

On the Android store, there have been over 9,000 downloads of the Movelt app, which has an excellent average rating of 4.4 stars. On the BetterBusinesses.com page, Movelt is the most highly rated moving service out of all DIY moving companies.

A plethora of competitive services organized by a professional moving consultant at no additional charge sets Movelt ahead of the competition.

Movelt starts the process by offering a free consultation to its clients, in which a professional moving professional inspects the current location and the new location, and maps out how to pack and move. Clients have the option to move everything themselves, or allow Movelt to source the packing, moving, and unpacking to an outside company.

---

At each point in the process, the customer is in complete control over the services rendered, and can opt out of any that they choose. Movelt has now served over 900 satisfied consumers and businesses, and hopes to be able to expand to other areas in 2017.
