Joe Handyman has been serving the local Compton community since 1974. Founded by the DeMarzo Brothers, Joe Handyman offers a variety of repair services, ranging from HVAC repair to tree removal. With a passion for helping their local community, the DeMarzo brothers offers highly competitive rates and honest estimates.

In fact, on RatingBuzz.com, they are the only service providers in the area with above a 4.6 rating, with over 300 reviews. Joe Handyman seeks to ensure the satisfaction of each and every client, which creates a lasting business relationship. Now a second-generation business, Joe Handyman is owned and operated by Andy and Frank DeMarzo, the sons of the original brothers.

Over the past four decades, Joe Handyman has expanded from a small family business to a multi-location business. However, it is still family owned and operated, and Joe Handyman still sponsors events throughout the community. They are proud to host the annual Mulch Bowl in Compton, which has been a tradition since 1932.

Additionally, they are the head sponsors of the Gatorsville Junior Soccer league, which provides a structured and safe environment for children from disadvantaged backgrounds to explore their love for soccer. They source many local contractors from across the area, each of whom are fully licensed and insured to do work.

Joe Handyman operates on a belief of complete honesty and integrity. They never will recommend repairs that are unnecessary or damaging to the property. They have a team of skilled and dedicated inspectors, which are specially trained for work with clients to evaluate situations and offer a detailed working plan with a thorough breakdown of costs.

At each point in the consultation, the client is in complete control of what services to order. The aim of Joe Handyman is to create repeat customers which will return time and time again for a variety of different repair needs completed in a timely and professional manner, all at the most competitive price.
